Apolo Ohno's Competition - Clare Jeong

I started skating right before I turned 10, and I've been skating ever since. I even went as far as to attend Nationals many times. I was able to achieve 2nd place, 2 or 3 times. Last year (2011) I finally got the title of National Champion and North American Champion! I then was able to qualify for Category 1, the Junior National Team. I ended up going to the Junior World Cup in Germany to see if I could qualify for the Youth Olympics. Even though I fell in the race that I was expected to do well in, I received word that I qualified for the Youth Olympics in Austria this Winter. I competed in two free skate competitions there, placing 8th in the 3,000 meter and 13th in the Mass Start.

Said It

Emily Betts - A Future Geographer

This year on January 13th, I competed in the GeoBee at AWS against other students in grades 6-8 answering questions about geography. I was asked questions about the whole world, for example the names of gulfs. Before the GeoBee I looked at maps to get prepared. To me, geography is one of the easier subjects to study for, it is easier to memorize. After I won there was a test that I had to take, and that was a little harder. But, thankfully, I got a question about something that was in Paris, and because I have been there, that was kind of an easy question. But, I have only been to Europe so other questions were harder. After I get the test results, if I passed the test, I go to the state competition!

Note It

Aquene Kimmel - A Reigning, Writing Champion!

National Novel Writing Month (or NaNoWriMo) is a program I participate in yearly run by the non-profit Office of Letters and Light in which thousands of people spend their Novembers writing a novel of at least 50,000 words.

I started participating in eighth grade, and I've won each year since. The most fun aspect of this is trying to figure out how to fit that much writing into a month, even if the final product ends up being far from perfect. My first novel, a story about a girl named Fey who discovered that she's a fairy, was embarrassingly clichéd. However, if anything can be said of my second book, it's certainly not that it's clichéd; it began as a pretty ordinary coming-of-age novel, but by the end I got bored with my main character and had her kidnapped by a cult of Big Foot worshippers. In my third book, a girl becomes friends with a boy who frequents the library where she works, and, of course, they start to "like like" each other. I'm excited to continue writing in the future!

Quote It

The Salam Sisters - Triple Threat

"My biggest accomplishment in horseback riding was winning first place in the second horse show I ever did. I won the reserved champion award."

-Anna Salam

"I have passed three levels in one year in my figure skating competition group. Also I've won the tri-blade award and other various first place metals."

-Emma Salam

"I think the best accomplishment I've made in basketball while playing at Annie Wright is all the friends I've made and improving my dribbling skills. Over the years I've won multiple coach's awards."

-Sarah Salam

All School Back-to-School Picnic

Abby Givens and Bailey Black jump off the bounce house with big smiles on their faces.

Mercedes Engle, Zoe Keskey, and Paris Cal enjoy their feast in celebration of the beginning of their sophomore year!

Annika Cederstrand and Maddie Phillips grin for the camera during the exciting day.

Carsyn Kniss gets her face painted as a cute cat.

Who: All Schools and Faculty What: A Picnic
When: September 9 Where: Blacktop & Soccer Field

Why?

Every year the back-to-school picnic is a time for the whole school to get together to enjoy good food and summer stories. A big bounce house, music (middle schoolers were the DJs), and food made by various members of our community made the afternoon fun.

Samantha and Christina's friendship can only be described as colorful. Since their freshman year of high school they have laughed together, played Call of Duty, and gone to a Katy Perry concert. "We have the same sense of humor. We even finish each other's sentences," says Sam. Christina loves being friends with Sam: "If we were on a deserted island and we could bring 3 things, I think we would choose chips and salsa, a row boat, and liquid rubber."

Lower School

Since I was three years old, people have been bringing unwrapped gifts to my birthday parties instead of gifts for me. I donate them to the YWCA Women's Shelter in Tacoma. The gifts that I donate are for moms to give to their kids for Christmas. It feels good to give gifts to people who can't afford them on their own. I think it's good karma. I've helped 101 children and 44 women at the YWCA.

Middle School

There isn't really a "best part" to Middle School, because every part of it is awesome. We have so much more freedom than we did in Lower School. I have the best memories from the class trips we took to Victoria and the Grand Canyon that I will never forget. From the milk boat races to throwing advisory parties, to chilling in the lounge with friends, middle school is amazing. I have had such a great time, that it really makes it hard to leave for high school.

I will miss you all. ♥

Fast Facts

Who: The entire Middle School What: Holiday Tea Where: Great Hall

Why?

Every year around the holidays the Middle School goes to the Great Hall where they are randomly put at tables with fellow peers. This gives them an opportunity to get to know people they may not know very well. The band plays music while each table gets assigned one of the 12 days of Christmas to sing together.

Goodbye Blue Ties

"Good luck at college!
Don't forget to come and visit Annie Wright!"
- Sara Pelster

"Someone wise once told me that the best thing to do when you get to college is to find out who the best teachers are—the teachers who can make their subjects really come alive. Ask other students; check out on-line reviews. Then sign up to take those teachers, regardless of what they teach. That's the best way to get a truly well-rounded education—and, likely, to figure out what you might truly be interested in studying as a major. It is more than likely that you will have several careers as you move through your working life, so don't go into college with a single-minded sense that you need to focus on ONE thing (unless you've already decided on something very specific such as engineering as a major). The more you know about many subjects the more flexible you will be in your professional career—and the more interesting and interested you will be as a person!"

- Susan Bauska

Best Teacher Advice On going to college

"Maintain a healthy sense of curiosity, have the courage to change your mind, and do not trivialize your experiences, whether positive or negative."
-Jeff Freshwater

"The moments when you don't know the answer are the most liberating in your college carrier."
-Zach Hansen

"We [the Red Ties] wish you all the best and hope your journeys are as bright as your futures. You'll truly be missed."
- Zoe Keskey

"Always go back to IB Memes to have a good time! Don't forget that even though you're in college, you still have a lot of work to do! Finally, meet lots of boys!"
- Shiori Oki

"As Mark Twain once said, and as my father said to me as I left for college, 'Don't let your school work get in the way of your education.'"
- Jake Guadnola

"Try new things. College has a lot of fun clubs and activities! When I was in college, I tried Karate and loved it! Don't worry too much about where you go. Anywhere you go you will have a great experience!"

The Search

Finding the Spade

The spade is one of the oldest traditions at Annie Wright School and was started in 1891. Each year the senior class plants a tree on the school campus during graduation weekend and each senior takes a turn shoveling the soil at the dedicated location. The spade is presented to the incoming seniors in September, however it is hidden and the incoming seniors have until October 31st to find the spade. If the incoming seniors succeed in finding the spade in time, they achieve their senior privileges. Once the incoming senior class finds the spade their tie color is tied around the spade once they graduate, however if the class does not manage to find the spade in time a black tie is tied around the spade. This has only happened once. The process of searching for the spade is a memorable moment for the new senior class. When they receive their privileges student's often say, that is the time when they truly feel like a senior.

SENIORS!!!

Stephanie Robinson, Kitty Lo, Joanna Lee, Torry Lee, Patty Wu, Katie Boyer, Cassie Nagel, Kim Lin, Lydia Mautz, and Mariah Miller hold the spade up triumphantly after they had just found it!

The final task!

After lining up all the clues, the Blue Ties realized there was a matrix on the back! So, using their math skills they entered the matrix into the calculator and noticed that the answer was a list of numbers less than 26. Evidently, these numbers correlated with letters in the alphabet which spelled out, "Go to the english sphinx." They went straight to Mrs. Bauska and were told where to find the spade!

Let Them Eat Cake!

Founders Day

Cassie Nagel and Josephine Ren savor their cake.

Who: Senior Class What: Cake Eating When: February 25 Where: Dining Hall

Why?

Every year, on founders day, it is tradition for the senior class to receive a cake with four items baked inside; a ring, thimble, dime, and cross. The student who finds the ring in their cake will be the first to be married. The thimble is found by the most hardworking student. The student who finds the cross is the most religious. Finally, the dime is found by the student who will become the most wealthy in the future.

Fast Facts

Below: Hening Zhou and Kitty Lo search through their cake as they eat.

Marina Andrade smiles for the camera before digging into her slice of cake

What do you think about being the first Blue Tie to get married?

I was actually super surprised that I got the ring (to tell you the truth, I kind of wanted the cross for irony's sake haha), especially since I'm kind of one of those people who wants to get married later in life. For my class, I MIGHT consider a quickie wedding in Vegas (hopefully not followed by a quickie divorce!!)-- this way all the Blue Ties could then be happily married without waiting for me! Haha!

Fast Facts

Who: Upper School Students What: A week without classes When: March 5th -8th
Where: Various Locations

Why?

Interim is a time each year where Upper Schoolers go through different experiences. This year, the 9th graders went rock climbing in Vantage, Washington. The 10th graders built three playhouses for Habitat for Humanity, the 11th Graders traveled up and down the West Coast touring colleges, and the 12th graders visited a multi-day Holocaust convention at Pacific Lutheran University.

Every student learned something new, and each adventure was a great bonding experience!

Green Ties circle up to discuss the week ahead.

1. Anisha Vora is all smiles after making it to the top of the rock.
2. Wynnm Murphy and Marissa Miller pair up as a married couple in the housing exercise before starting to build for Habitat for Humanity.
3. Inessa Palchikova, Nun Luangphetngam, Pin Siriviroj, Mao Terada, Suzie Zeng, and Sarah Lee hang out on a college campus.
4. Serena Yu works the saw blade to precisely cut pieces of wood for the Habitat for Humanity playhouses.
5. Who says work can't be fun? Tori Smith and Margaux Arntson are all smiles after a long day of work.
6. The Yellow Tie class poses at Saint Mary's College, enjoying their visit and soaking up the California sunshine!

your hard work!

Natalie Nygren

My past years at AWS have been full of unforgettable friendships, undying laughter, amazing teachers, and so much more. My friends this year have helped me through so much and I love them all like brothers and sisters. We've had lots of memories... Never forget the Class of 2016! Love always, Natalie N<3

Katherine Boyer

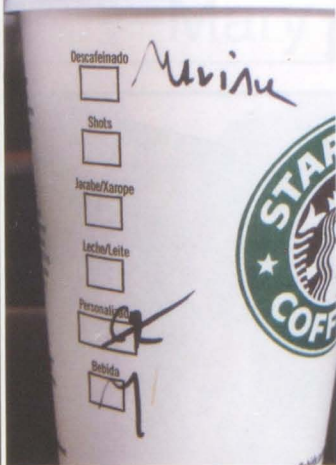

Your future is up to you, make it a grand adventure!

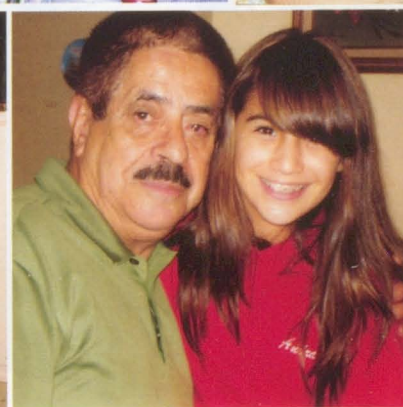

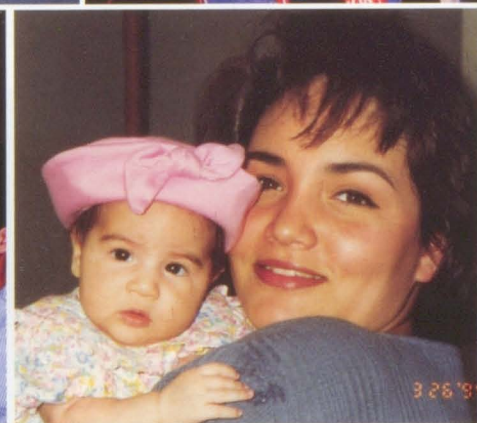

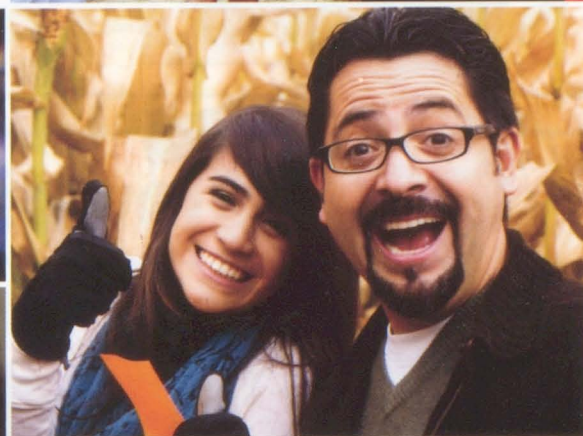

We Love You, Mom & Dad

Marina Anabelle Andrade

We know YOU can lead the way!
Love,
Dad, Mom, Santana,
Anna, & Sergio

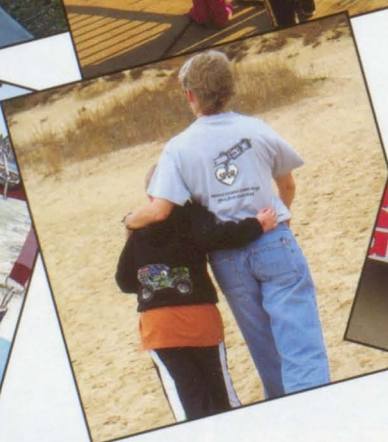

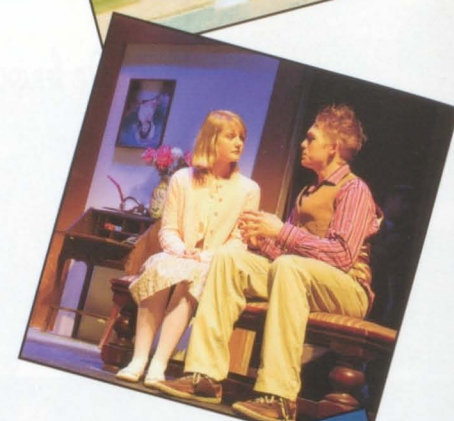

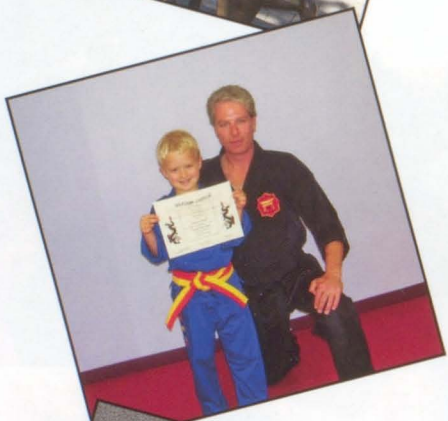

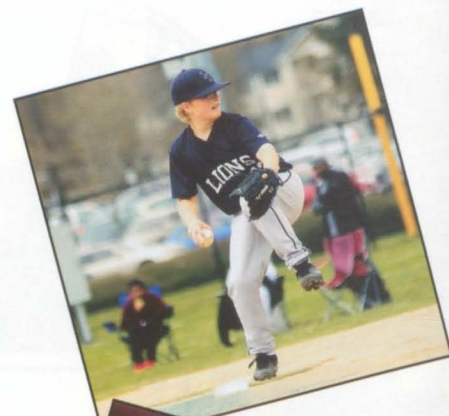

Natalie and Blake Nygren

Dear Natalie and Blake,

We are so very proud of all of who you are and all of your accomplishments. We wish you success and happiness in all of your future endeavors.

Love, Mom and Dad

Mary Bradford

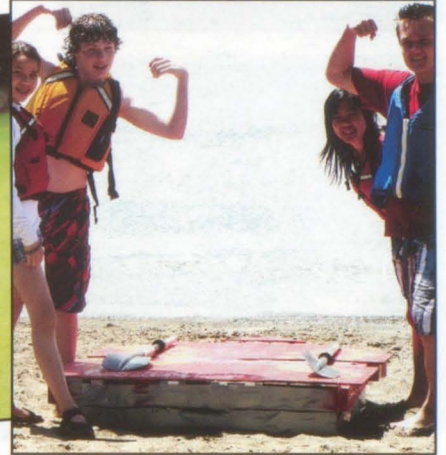

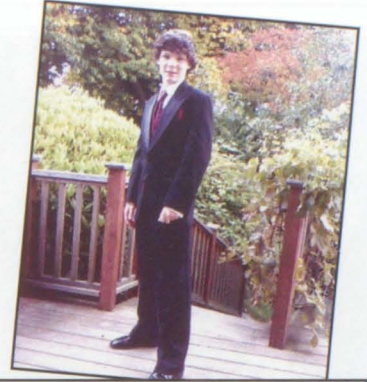

Throughout the centuries, there were men who took first steps down new roads armed with nothing but their own vision.....Ayn Rand

Congratulations.....with all our love,
Dad, Mom and Philomena

Nolan Adberg

Congratulations on a great 3 years at Annie Wright!

We love you!
~ your family

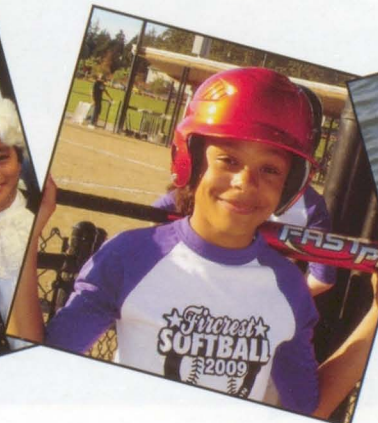

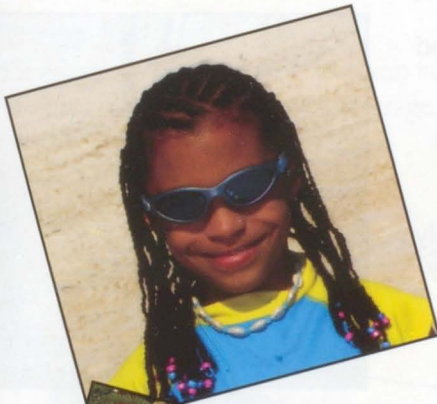

Sarah Gallup-Stowell

Dear Sarah,

We are so proud of how you have grown and all you have learned in your nine years at AWS. You have a wonderful future ahead in highschool and beyond!

All our love,
Mama and Mommy, Chloe and Buddy

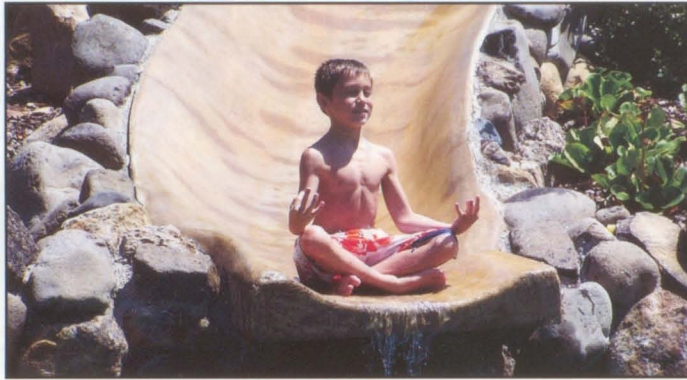

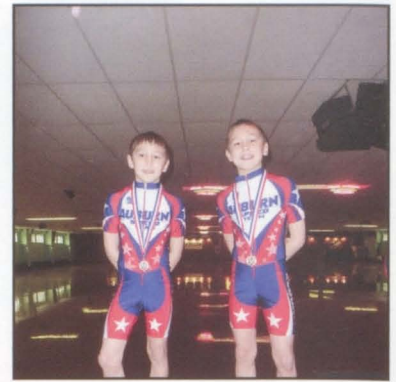

Christian S. Poulsen

"You have to think anyway, so why not think big?"
-Donald Trump

You have an inner quality to be a great leader. People are drawn to you taking charge of the situation and getting the task done. You know how to analyze and delegate. You can be sensitive and quiet, but after you work hard, you play hard.
You love the outdoors, nature, and a good party!
We love that you are loving life! We are so proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Ariel and William

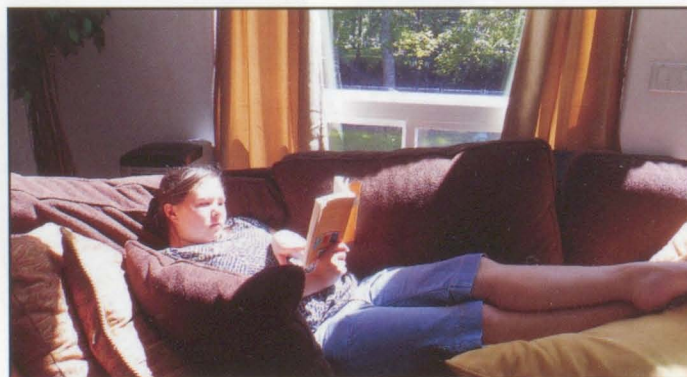

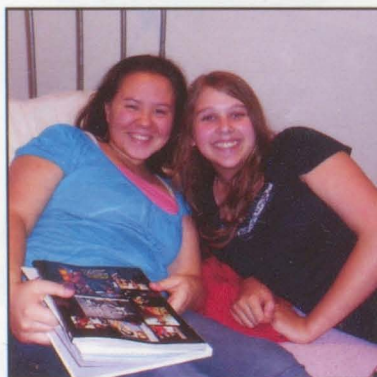

Ariel Jay S. Poulsen

"Kindness is the language which the deaf can hear and the blind can see"-Mark Twain

You are our quirky girl and we know that in itself will make you successful. We love the way you read so many books and love your music. Also, never met anyone who was more helpful, kind and loving to family and friends. The world became a better place the day you were born. Keep that beautiful smile!
We are so proud of you.
Love, Mom, Dad, Christian and William

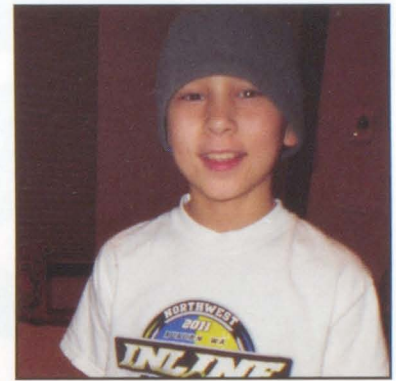

William S. Poulsen

"The highest compliment that you can pay me is to say I work hard every day, that I never dog it" -Wayne Gretzky

You have never been afraid of hard work! You are always right there first to do what ever needs to be done, for yourself or others. You are not afraid to do the extra to succeed. Add to that, your infectious smile, your sense of humor, and you have the traits for an amazing future. We are looking forward to see where you go.

Your family is so proud of you .
Love, Mom, Dad, Ariel, and Christian

Margaret Taylor

Darling girl,
Congratulations on your graduation from Annie Wright. You are blessed with courage, character, a lively spirit and so much more!

Winter came with a rush
our delight and joy

Your heart bursting, fierce, and strong protecting what you hold dear

Rooted - finding and creating paths that lead to new places

Your heart now a partner with your head

Striving, learning, empowered determined to thrive

You now
so ready and true

So proud and happy are we

to share our hearts

and to call you
daughter, sister, and friend.

SOPHIA GABRIELLE KESKEY

Embrace the world with your usual gusto, compassion & independent spirit. Sophia! We are so proud of you and all that you've accomplished. Congrats, HS Graduate, XOXO, Mom, Dad & Zoe

Many thanks to the incredible AWS faculty and staff who have made these 12 years so enriching and memorable!. With gratitude, The Keskey-Salk Family

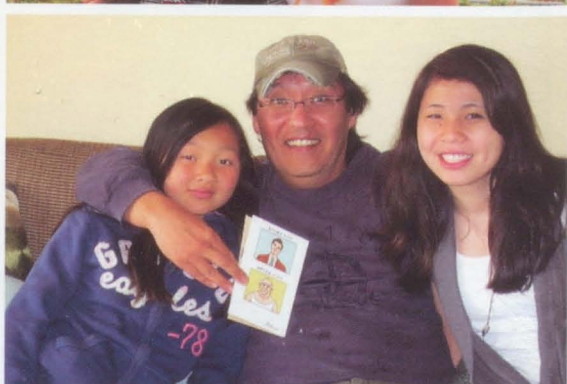

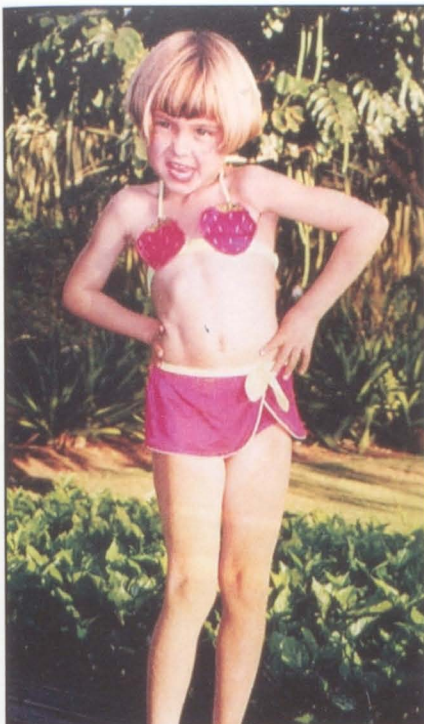

Dear Elie,

Congratulations. You did a great job! Your Lower School years were filled with lots of learning and tons of fun. We are all super proud of you.

Love,

Mom, Dad, Madi and Sadie

Julia Lee Murray

We are happy and, yes, we are proud.

We will endeavor not to shout out loud.

But our feelings are vindicated

Cuz' Julia Lee has graduated.

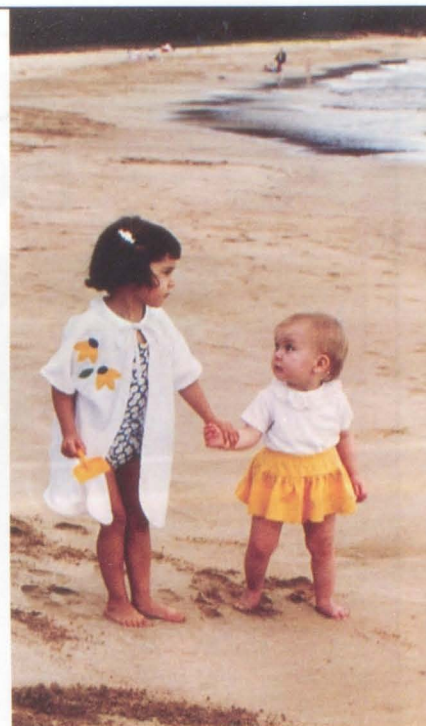

And the event doth totally rule

Due to such an exceptional school.

CONGRATULATIONS, JULIA!

Eggs, planes, and competition! oh my

3rd grade egg drop and 2nd grade plane toss

Left: Lauren Janguard expectantly checks for the condition of her egg after the drop.

Above: Ethan Wasyluka triumphantly holds up his egg that has survived the twenty foot fall

Left: Meryyn Coumou proudly holds up her surviving egg.

Left: The crowd watches in awe as the eggs are dropped from the cloister tower. A miraculous number of 17 out of 23 eggs survived the drop.

Why?

The Egg Drop and Airplane Toss are both exciting activities in the life of a lower schooler. The Egg Drop is a competition within the 3rd grade class to see who can design a box in which an egg will be dropped in the commons that will keep the egg completely safe.

The airplane toss is done by the 2nd graders and is a competition to see who can design the most aerodynamic plane and send it across the gym.

Let the competitions begin!

Fast Facts

Above: Ananya Kiely- Kukreja excitedly picks up her fallen package in order to examine if her egg survived.

Right: Ranbir Pental and Mauve Davidson concentrate on the competition

Left: PreKindergarten follow the paths that each airplane makes

Below: The Second Grade holds their breath as they wait for the airplane to fall

Second Below: Lev Walker watches the paper airplane competition

Left: Miles Davidson receives an award for having one of the furthest flying paper airplane

Above Middle: Ela Escobar goes for the win as she and Ms. Young watch her paper airplane fly

Above Right: The lower school follow the depth of each plane toss in anticipation
